DOES SOME TRAVELING.

Car Shoots Suddenly Upward at Terrific Speed.

NEARLY LEAVES BRIDGE.

Windows Shattered, and the Startled Passengers, Eight In Number, Hurdled Forward, but Fortunately Not a One Was Injured.

Chicago, Oct. 19.—Shooting suddenly upward at an angle of forty-five degrees, the foremost car of a train on the Metropolitan "L" dashed on the opening lift of the Jackknife bridge between Jackson Boulevard and Chadburn street. For a second it seems that the impetus of the car and the rising tendency of the bridge might carry it over and hurl the car off the tracks. Then the motor power was shut off and the force of gravity caused the car to fall backward and was telescoped with a second car, which had come on from behind with undiminished speed. In the darkness and amid the crashing of glass from shattered windows the startled passengers of the forward or motor car, hurled from their seats and sliding toward the downward end of the car, groped for the exits. Fortunately the number in the car was small, only eight, and all succeeded in escaping from the trap into which they were thrown. In all three cars of the train there were only twenty-five passengers. The shock and the sudden darkness caused by the shutting off of the electric current threw them into momentary confusion, but all escaped injury. The second car, jamming into the lifted one, slid up the slide three or four feet. There it was halted by the resistance it encountered.

The inopportune raising of the Bascule bridge was said by M. G. Ferron, superintendent, to have been caused by the action of the towerman in accidentally unlocking the bridge.

However, there was another story to the effect that the bridge was being opened to allow the steamer Panther, loaded with coal, to pass under. The Panther came up at the time of the accident at any rate, and but for the captain of the tug towing the boat it would have crashed into the bridge, which failed to open far enough when the train ran on it. The jumble of cars on the bridge closed that street subsequently to all traffic and for some time the Metropolitan system was almost entirely tied up. Coming just at the time of closing of the theaters it caught many persons bound for home.

FANATICAL BLACKS.

Members of Religious Sect Are Cause of the Trouble.

New Orleans, Oct. 19.—Fanatical excitement of negroes calling themselves the "Council of God" appears to have been the cause of the riot Friday night in which one policeman was killed and several others wounded and a number of negroes badly injured. The isolated house in which half a dozen negroes barricaded themselves, transforming the place into a veritable blockhouse which was fired upon by policemen and citizens from all sides for the better part of two hours, proves to have been the meeting place of a sect.

The trouble started during the meeting when highly excited negroes drew razors on Policeman Cambiens because he attempted to enter to investigate reports of a disturbance caused by boys throwing stones at the windows. Razors were drawn across his face and neck, mortally wounding him. Many members of the meeting then fled. Those who remained and barricaded themselves were well armed, and after the negroes had been smoked into submission by burning the fence several shotguns and other firearms were found under the meetinghouse.

The fighting occurred on New Orleans street and did not start in front of the German Presbyterian church as stated in previous reports. The excitement in that section of the city where the negroes held forth grew intense, and when arrests followed it required the efforts of a score or more of police to get the negroes through the mob and bring them safely to the station house. Members of the mob were bent on wreaking vengeance on the blacks and the officers found it necessary to arm themselves with shotguns and charge through the wouldbe lynchers to the patrol wagons, which were taken down the street at a gallop.

STEAMER SEARCHED.

Revolvers Found on American Vessel, but Captain Refuses to Pay Fine.

New York, Oct. 19.—Dispatches from Puerto Plata state the authorities at Sanchez, San Domingo, searched the American steamer Cherokee, seized revolvers found on board and fined the captain $2,500. The latter refused to pay the fine and clearance papers were refused him. He proceeded without them.

It is stated that great care is used in accepting freight because of the importation of firearms, which is prohibited in San Domingo. It is impossible, however, to know everything in cases of merchandise shipped.

NEGROES SMOKED OUT.

Blacks Start a Rio In the City of New Orleans.

POLICEMAN CAMBIENS DIES

One of the Individuals Starting the Disturbance Is Mortally Wounded During the Fracas, and Officers and Mob Also Clash.

New Orleans, Oct. 19.—A party of negroes barricaded themselves in a downtown house and started a small riot. One policeman was killed and several wounded.

The trouble started in front of the Second German Presbyterian church at Claiborne and Annette streets during the services Friday night, and several negroes became boisterous. Patrolman Cambiens, who attempted to arrest them, was killed. The negroes ran to a nearby house, which they barricaded. With shotguns, revolvers and razors they awaited the police, a few of whom gathered quietly and stormed the house. Sergeant Wheatley was mortally wounded and Patrolman Wencke and Corporal J. W. Dunn received serious wounds.

A company of local militia, which happened to be drilling in front of police headquarters when the fighting was reported, volunteered for service, and was rushed to the scene of the riot.

The riot ended after an hour and a half's siege by the police. The officers routed the negroes by burning them out, mortally wounding one and arresting five others.

Patrolman Cambiens was killed by a knife thrust, and his body lay for a considerable time in front of the barricaded house, no one daring to move it. About half an hour after his death a small detail of police made a rush upon the house, more than half of them falling to the pavement shot by negroes behind the windows. The police were driven to shelter, carrying the wounded men with them.

For more than a quarter of an hour the negroes were masters of the neighborhood, while the police collected a force of twenty men to renew the attack. This larger squad surrounded the house so that no one could escape, and after finding that threats of shooting were of no avail, set fire to a fence behind the house. The smoke drove the negroes from cover. They broke for safety singly, the first one cut falling mortally wounded, while the next two rushed out with empty hands held over their heads and begging for mercy. A badly wounded negro staggered out, and the police seeing that the fight was over rushed in and searched the house. One negro was found under a mattress, and six arrests, including the dying negro, a badly wounded negro next staggered out and were made prisoners. Some of the others arrested appeared to be badly injured. These negroes held the house for more than an hour against a force of well-picked police. The police were backed by a mob of more than 1,000 persons, and as soon as the two negroes submitted the police were forced to turn on this mob and fight with all their energy against threatened wholesale lynchings. The negroes were taken safely to the parish prison.

FORTY-FIVE MORE.

That Many Additional Defendants In Amended Bill Filed.

Philadelphia, Oct. 19.—In an amended bill filed by attorneys for the government Friday in the equity proceedings against the alleged anthracite coal trust forty-five additional defendants are named. All new defendants are mentioned in answer filed by original defendant, and named in amended bill on the ground they are connected with previously named coal roads and mining companies by certain financial transactions and coal purchase contracts. Subpoenas will be issued for the last defendants and they be examined by government attorneys on all matters mentioned in the government's petition for injunction against the alleged combination. They will not be examined under oath, as this preliminary is waived by the government.

GREEN GETS VERDICT.

More Than Thirteen Thousand Dollars Awarded Him In Onion Case.

San Marcos, Tex., Oct. 19.—Judge Moore rendered judgment against the Katy railroad, giving William Green damages to the amount of $13,700 for injury to his onion crop last spring. The suit was for $30,000, and was on account of the overflow of the crop alleged to have been caused by the Katy cut-off connecting the International and Great Northern, as a result of which the water stood for a long time, resulting in damage to the crop. Fifteen acres were submerged. The case was tried before Judge Moore without a jury.

them were taken prisoners by the English. Among them was Sir Archibald Douglas, half brother of Lord William Douglas. Being dressed in a suit of splendid armor, the victors thought they had captured—as indeed they had—some great nobleman. Several of the English were about to strip off his armor when Sir William Ramsay of Colluthie, who was also a prisoner, happening to catch Sir Archibald's eye, gave him a meaning look. Pretending to be very angry, he cried out: "You rascal, how is it that you are wearing your master's armor? Come here and pull off my boots!" Douglas, seemingly thoroughly cowed, went humbly forward and drew off a boot, with which Sir William began to beat him. The English onlookers at once interfered on Douglas' behalf, saying that he was a person of great rank and a lord. "What!" shouted Ramsay, shaking with laughter. "He a lord? Why, he is a base knave and, I suppose, has slain his master. Go, you villain, and search the field for the body of my cousin, your master, and when you have found it let me know, that I may give it decent burial." All this was acted so naturally that the English allowed Ramsay to ransom the pretended manservant for 40 shillings. The money having been paid, Sir William gave Douglas another thrashing and then bade him begone. Sir Archibald lost no time in effecting his escape, which he owed solely to the ingenuity of his friend.

Human Muscles.

If the muscles in the arm of the average man were put together and a nervous impulse passed into them, their contraction would lift a weight of 224 pounds from the ground. Muscles have the unique power when stimulated by nerve impulse of contracting somewhat as rubber bands might do if they could squeeze themselves up shorter. They are, in fact, the reverse of rubber, for they contract only and cannot stretch out.—Minneapolis Journal.

The Name Bismarck.

Few people know how Bismarck and his ancestors got their name. Bismarck is the name of one of those ancient castles a short distance from Stendal, on the road from Cologne to Berlin, in the center of the old mark of Brandenburg. The castle had this name because it defended the "marca," or the line where the river Elbe formed a boundary in former times or mark of defense against intruders; hence the name of Bismarck.

seat in the house of bishops. This dinner in honor of the African prelate occurring as it has in the heart of the south, has been the occasion of considerable comment in this city.

MAGILLS ACQUITTED.

Verdict Received With Cheers Despite Efforts of Court Officials.

Decatur, Ill., Oct. 19.—Acting under instructions from Judge Cochran, the jury returned a verdict acquitting Frederick Magill, and his wife, Faye Graham Magill.

In his instructions the judge said the state had failed to prove the corpus delicti. The verdict was greeted with cheers, despite the efforts of the court to maintain order. The crowd in the courtroom hurried forward and congratulated the Magills.

May 30, 1907, Mrs. Pot Magill was found dead in her home at Clinton, Ill., and a postmortem examination, held six weeks later, showed that she had been suffocated with chloroform. In July, at Denver, Frederick Magill, her husband, and Miss Faye Graham, who had been a close friend of the family, were married. Four days later, in San Diego, Cal., Magill and his second wife were arrested on a charge of murdering the first Mrs. Magill. They were brought to Clinton and secured a change of venue to this city.

In the trial the state claimed that Magill and Miss Graham, by their conduct, had driven Mrs. Magill to suicide and were, therefore, guilty of murder. The defense introduced letters written by Mrs. Magill shortly before her death, in which she complained of "unbearable headaches" and constant "nagging" by her husband's relatives. Witnesses also testified that Mrs. Magill had often talked of committing suicide. In a letter to her husband the day before her death, Mrs. Magill asked him to marry Faye Graham in case anything should happen to her. Magill was employed in a bank at Clinton, Ill., the chief owner of which is Vespian Garner, United States commissioner of pensions.

WARD NOT WORRIED.

Does Not Believe Wireless System Will Be Rival of Cable Lines.

New York, Oct. 19.—George Caleb Ward, general manager of the Commercial Cable company, does not believe the wireless system will ever prove a serious rival to the old cable lines. In an interview he said: "We would not be understood as minimizing Marconi's achievements, but submarine cables being more reliable, we do not believe the wireless will ever prove a serious rival of them. As a proof of our estimation in the commercial future of the wireless I might say that this minute we complete a new direct cable from New York to Havana. In other words, cable companies, which are free to adopt the wireless methods if they see fit to do so will continue to invest in new cables. Furthermore, while it is expected Marconi's system will be improved later, we anticipate that any such advances will have the effect of stimulating the telegraph business generally. History undoubtedly will repeat itself in this case, as it is has in many other kindred enterprises."

AGREED TO ARBITRATE.

In the Meantime the Men Decided to Return to Work.

New Orleans, Oct. 19.—Speedy settlement of the levee strike of 10,000 cotton handlers was made Friday, when both sides to the controversy made very fairly similar proposals. The difference in the propositions was that the strikers proposed investigation of all port conditions, while the steamship agents proposed arbitration of the dispute as to how many bales loaded per day constitute a fair day's labor for cotton screwmen. Both sides agreed the men should return to work, pending the investigation or arbitration.

NOT TO RETIRE.

Sara Bernhardt Will Continue to Play Until Life's Curtain Goes Down.

Paris, Oct. 19.—Sara Bernhardt, in denying a rumor that she will soon retire from the stage, reiterated her oft expressed declaration that she will play till she dies. She said: "This may, of course, be my last season, as rumor says, for I am an old woman and my life is in God's hands, but I shall play until my death, and the fate I hope for is the death Sir Henry Irving died."

The seats were in the orchestra on the theater's left. "The left side of the house always sells out first," said the box office man. "Everybody seems to prefer it to the right. I don't know why. Boxes especially—we can sell two left to one right box every time. Nobody takes the right side for choice. And there is no reason for this. As much goes on in the right extremity of the stage as in the left—we proprietors always look after that—and you see just as much from the right as from the left side. Why, then, is the left side always at a premium?"—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

BY CARNES & WALLACE

BRYAN, TEXAS, OCT 20, 1907

Sunday services were protracted to an unusual length and many housewives had to use make-shifts for dinner, in order to meet the afternoon engagements. Two or three ladies laughingly compared notes. One said, "We had to eat cold biscuits;" another said, "We didn't have any dinner worth mentioning;" said a third, "We didn't have much but we dine out to-night," and in answer to inquiry, she continued: "Whenever mother finds out that there is any extra service for Sunday, she goes home and cooks supper for us while I am at church. If she didn't I could not be here." Just a few words spoken, but they open to a chapter in a quiet life, entitled, "Helpfulness." The mother referred to is unassuming and takes no prominent part; her presence is more often felt through the floral offerings than seen in her attitude as worshiper; but she's holding up the hands of those who do. She does the duty that lies nearest, does it without murmuring, measuring fully up to the standard set by Solomon for "the virtuous woman;" and now her children complete the prophecy by calling her "blessed." Such a beautiful life of service is hers. Yet most of us spend half of our lives in looking for something to do for the Mas-

Hold on, brother! Houston is great of course, but there have been born in the above small villages more children since the last snowstorm than the entire population of Houston.

William J. Bryan is said to be confident that Roosevelt will not be the republican candidate next year, and is strongly inclined to the opinion that Taft will be the nominee.

FOSTER'S WEATHER BULLETIN.

(Copyrighted by W. T. Foster.)

Washington, D. C., Oct 19.—Last bulletin gave forecasts of disturbance to cross continent 20 to 24, warm wave 19 to 23, cool wave 22 to 26. Next disturbance will reach Pacific coast about 25, cross west of Rockies country by close of 26, great central valleys 27 to 29, eastern states 30. Warm wave will cross west of Rockies about 25, great central valleys 27, eastern states 29. Cool wave will cross west of Rockies about 28, great central valleys 30, eastern states November 1.

This will be one of the severe storm periods of this radical weather month. All weather features will go to extremes. The disturbance will follow a period of cooler than usual weather and the warm wave expected to cross the meridian 90 not far from 28 will go to high degrees. It will be much like the hot wave of Oct. 6 and will not long continue. But I am not expecting severely cold weather nor killing frosts to follow that high temperature wave. The next cold wave will not reach meridian 90 till about Nov. 5. The killing frosts will reach meridian 90 about 24, a few days ahead of this disturbance.

Some radical weather will immediately follow Oct. 19. Dangerous storms may be expected, not far from 22 and then rains, followed soon after by a cold wave and killing frosts.

These bulletins said the coldest part of October would be about beginning of the month, the last of the month being warmer, November will reverse that order and an unusual fall of temperature will occur between October 30 and November 30. Very severe and cold weather will monopolize the last ten days of November.

SIT TIGHT AND REST EASY.

Away off from Bangor, in the chilly state where flows the Penobscot and hears no sound save the lifting of the lid, comes the report upon the credit of the editor of a paper in the City of Mexico, that "thousands of Japanese veterans are in the Mexican states bordering the United States, equipped with arms and discreetly organized in readiness to gather in and invade this country on short notice."

We are uncertain how Boston and the New England shore, which shook with tremors from the Bay of Buzzards to that of Fundy when the Great Spanish Attack was threatened, in '98, feel about this pronouncement, but for ourselves we of Missouri sit tight.

There is on our Southern border an empire called the Lone Star state, which not only is amply able to care for all the invading Japs who might venture to cross the Rio Grande with arms, but would like the job.

Before Texas had a Five Million

Club it licked Santa Anna, and still it wears upon its proud shoulders its undiminished chip.

There will be no invasion of these United States of America from our Southern frontier, which the great, grand, glorious and gorgeous state of Texas will not laughingly repel with one hand tied behind her back.

Sit tight and rest easy.—St. Louis Times.

CONDITION IS CROWDED.

There is Not Enough Room for Students at A. and M.

On all sides can be seen evidences of the crowded condition of the Agricultural and Mechanical College. It was no uncommon sight during the first few days after the opening of the college, before additional seats could be got from Bryan, to see students in the classrooms standing in the corners or seated on window sills. The companies are so large that when the battalion is drawn up on the parade ground each end of the lines of men overflow away out into the bushes that fringe the place arranged for the battalion formation.

The most apparent sign of the unusual number of students is the row of thirty-six tents which inclose the small parade grounds. As Judge Green of Yoakum said during his recent visit, "It looks as if a regiment of soldiers was encamped here." Seventy-two men are now lodging in the tents. That they are comfortable may be judged from the fact that Capt. Moses reports that 150 students have petitioned for quarters there. Each tent has a plank floor and is boarded up four or five feet. They cost $60 each, exclusive of a stove and other furniture.

Few men have received such an ovation in this city as that accorded to Captain Richmond Pearson Hobson, "the Hero of the Merrimac," and now a Congressman from Alabama, Sunday afternoon, when he was presented to 4,143 men, who greeted him with cheers and hand claps and waving flags and handkerchiefs.—Ex. 269

Try This For Catarrh.

Free tests are now being supplied by mail to all Catarrh sufferers. There is no expense—no obligation whatever. Dr. Shoop is combining Oil of Eucalyptus, Thymol, Menthol, Oil of Wintergreen, etc., and is incorporating these ingredients into a pure, snow-white cream-like imported Petrolatum. This Creation—Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Remedy—gives immediate and lasting relief to catarrh of the nose and throat. That all may first test it free, these trial boxes are being mailed without charge, simply to encourage these tests and thus fully demonstrate, beyond doubt, the value of this combination. If Catarrh has extended down to the stomach or bowels, then Dr. Shoop's Restorative must also be used internally if a complete cure is to be expected. Otherwise the Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Remedy will alone be entirely sufficient. Write Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. for sample and book. Sold by Druggists everywhere.

Weak Kidneys

Weak Kidneys, surely point to weak kidney nerves. The Kidneys, like the Heart, and the Stomach, find their weakness, not in the organ itself, but in the nerves that control and guide and strengthen them. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is a medicine specifically prepared to reach these controlling nerves. To doctor the Kidneys alone, is futile. It is a waste of time, and of money as well. If your back aches or is weak, if the urine is sandy, or is dark and strong, if you have symptoms of Bright's or other distressing or dangerous kidney disease, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative a month—Tablets or Liquid—and see what it can and will do for you. for the occasion, were crowded with cabinet ministers, diplomats and other statesmen and their wives.

The president, M. Mediloff of Russia, made a long speech, saying that notwithstanding the assiduous work of the delegates the conference had lasted longer than expected. He reviewed the work, emphasizing the spirit of accord which had characterized the debates. After thanking all who had collaborated with him, M. Mediloff proposed a telegram of thanks to Queen Wilhelmina for her hospitality, which was agreed to.

He shot himself as he was leaving the door.

OIL STRUCK.

Was Discovered While Boring For Water For an Ice Plant.

Teague, Tex., Oct. 19.—While boring for water on the property of the local ice plant here Friday the second strike of oil was made, after the drills had passed through thirteen feet of lignite. The indications are, according to those who say they have had experience in oil fields, that a gusher will be brought in soon. The first strike of oil in this well was the previous day at a depth of fifty-five feet, when the flow was perceptible, but the second was strong, when at a depth of eighty-eight feet Friday oil was discovered the second time. The ice plant is owned by a Houston firm, the Robinson Ice Plant company.

The child was exercised and switched and made to drink coffee until a doctor could be sent for. She soon recovered.

PIERCE TO TEXANS.

Insists That His Company Is an Independent Concern.

Austin, Oct. 19.—Governor Campbell has received a fourteen page typewritten letter from Henry Clay Pierce. The letter is addressed to the chief executive and people of Texas, and the writer declares at its conclusion that copies have been sent to the press. The writer tells in detail of the service his corporation has rendered the people of Texas, and how it has been hounded by politicians who have misled the people of Texas into the belief that it is part of the Standard Oil company, when he declares that in reality it is not, but an independent concern. He admits that the Standard audited the accounts of his company because it supplied him with oil. He insists that the reorganization was in good faith and that he committed no wrong in making an affidavit to that effect. He says that he is contesting the extradition on account of sentiment against his company in Texas, instigated by politicians and certain newspapers.

He goes into his consultation with Senator Bailey, brought about by Hon. David R. Francis, but that he never paid Bailey one dollar for services he performed in being readmitted in Texas. Since that time, he writes, he had retained Bailey to look after other business matters for him, and he paid him large fees for his services. He declares that he believes that the people of Texas are just and fair, and will do the right thing by him and his company when the proper time arrives.

BABY CAUSES COMMOTION.

Court Takes Recess Till Little Fellow Is Exorcised.

Fort Worth, Oct. 19.—During the trial of a case in the Forty-eighth district court a year-old baby with lusty lungs managed to get himself wedged in between the seat and back of one of the opera chairs provided for spectators and his wails of distress were so loud and shrill that the witnesses, lawyers and judge finally adjudge himself surmounted the infant to learn the cause of the trouble.

It required a half hour of strenuous effort to release the child and it was necessary to use a hammer and saw to accomplish the result. The infant's leg was found to be considerably bruised, but no bones were broken. After he had been freed and his wails hushed trial of the case was resumed and the court once more assumed its dignity.

GOT HIS SHIRTS.

Comical Prank a Princeton Student Played Upon a Tutor.

In "Princeton—Old and New," by James W. Alexander, is the following story:

"The mode of life was simpler in those days than now, but the same humor which still makes collegians so comic effervesced in the old days. When, for example, William Pennington, son of a former governor of New Jersey and himself afterward speaker of the national house of representatives, roomed next door to Senior Tutor Topping it was the custom for each man to hang on the outside knob of his door the bag containing his soiled clothes for the laundry.

"Pennington stuffed his own skirts one day in Tutor Topping's bag and waited for the day when the clean linen was returned and laid out on Topping's bed. Then, knowing that two of the younger tutors were in Topping's room, Pennington knocked at his door. On entering he put on an embarrassed air, as if hesitating to speak in the presence of the other tutors.

"Topping in a lofty way said: 'These gentlemen are my friends. I have no secrets from them. Say what you wish.' Pennington still hemmed and hawed, but, again urged to speak, blurted out: 'It is not my fault, Mr. Topping. I did not want to say anything about it now, but as you insist I must ask you to please return the skirts I lent you, as I am in need of them.'

"Topping's rage and horror at being thus addressed before the younger tutors, who looked up to him as a Marcus Apollo, may well be imagined. He began to upbraid Pennington, who interrupted him by saying: 'It's no use, Mr. Topping, trying to deny the fact. I see the shirts there on the bed with your own things.' The tutor stood aghast, but Pennington stepped to the bed and picked out his own shirts, marked with his name."

TYBURN TREE.

Lord Ferrers' Tragical Journey to the Famous Old Gallows.

Park Lane was Tyburn lane, and it seems as if the gallows—described in an old document as movable—at one time stood at its east corner. It was there the ferocious Lord Ferrers was hung in 1790 for murdering his servant. Horace Walpole's words paint the picture well: 'He shamed heroes. He bore the solemnity of a pompous and tedious procession of above two hours from the Tower to Tyburn with as much tranquility as if he were only going to his own burial, not to his own execution.' And when one of the dragons of the procession was thrown from his horse Lord Ferrers expressed much concern and said, 'I hope there will be no death today but mine.'

On went the procession, with a mob about it sufficient to make its progress slow and laborious. Small wonder that the age of Thackeray, with Thackeray's help, set up its scaffolds within four high walls. Asking for drink, Lord Ferrers was refused, for, said the sheriff, late regulations enjoined him not to let prisoners drink while passing from the place of imprisonment to that of execution, great indecencies having been committed by the drunkenness of the criminals in the hour of execution. "And though," said he, "my lord, I might think myself excusable in overlooking this order out of regard to your lordship's rank, yet there is another reason, which, I am sure, will weigh with you—your lordship is sensible of the greatness of the crowd; we must draw up at some tavern; the confluence would be so great that it would delay the expedition which your lordship seems so much to desire." But decency—so often paraded by those who outrage it—ended with the murderer's death. "The executioners fought for the rope, and the one who lost it cried—the greatest tragedy, to his thinking, of the day!"—London Sketch.

PRESIDENT KILLS BEAR.

Animal He Laid Low Had Been Followed For Four Hours.

Stamboul, La., Oct. 18.—The president killed a bear late Thursday afternoon. Few details are known except it took place after he and other hunters with him followed the dogs in the chase through jungles for four hours. The beast was a female of black variety and beyond the average size. The fact that she was secured at all is attributed to the staying quality of the new dogs.

The news was brought in by a courier, who arrived from Bear Lake Friday morning. The exploit has given heart to the camp and hunters are now working with renewed vigor in the hope of making a brilliant finish.

Indigestion

Stomach trouble is but a symptom of, and not in itself a true disease. We think of Dyspepsia, Heartburn, and Indigestion as real diseases, yet they are symptoms only of a certain specific Nervous disorder—indigestion.

It was this fact that first correctly led Dr. Shoop in the creation of that now very popular Stomach Remedy—Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Going direct to the stomach nerves, alone brought that success and favor to Dr. Shoop and his Restorative. Without that original and highly vital principle, no such lasting accomplishments were ever to be had. For stomach distress, bloating, biliousness, bad breath and sallow complexion, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—and see for yourself what it can and will do. We sell and cheerfully recommend

PRESIDENT KILLS BEAR.

Animal He Laid Low Had Been Followed For Four Hours.

Stamboul, La., Oct. 18.—The president killed a bear late Thursday afternoon. Few details are known except it took place after he and other hunters with him followed the dogs in the chase through jungles for four hours. The beast was a female of black variety and beyond the average size. The fact that she was secured at all is attributed to the staying quality of the new dogs.

The news was brought in by a courier, who arrived from Bear Lake Friday morning. The exploit has given heart to the camp and hunters are now working with renewed vigor in the hope of making a brilliant finish.
